ANCIENT ASIA + CONTEMPORARY LIVING

Simple. Elegant. Authentic.

The character “Jia” translates to “home” in Chinese, yet it means so much more than the physical space of a dwelling. It is family, heritage, the collection of experiences and backgrounds that reflect in the choices made within the space. These choices can consist of the placement of cherished heirlooms or the presence of revered objects. They can also be expressed by the absence of things, through how the space itself embodies beauty and quiet.

Jia Moderne was born out of a love of Asia and a devotion to bringing this remarkable collection of antiques, artifacts, art, and authentic pieces—together with their stories—to New England designers and decorators.

In a collection ranging from one-of-a-kind pieces discovered in remote areas, to the latest trends from up-and-coming artists and artisans in the region, Jia Moderne draws upon years of travel and experience to surface unique sources for the discerning trade professional.

With buying trips several times a year, owner Betsy Sweat brings to you a collection that will enhance and endow any modern space—residential, commercial, hospitality—with its own unique blend that is Ancient Asia + Contemporary Living.

ANCIENT ASIA + CONTEMPORARY LIVING

ANTIQUES

Living with history—nothing is more authentic and evocative than a one-of-a-kind antique piece. Asian antiques bring a particularly unique note to a space by virtue of their very presence. These hand-selected items come from areas both urban and remote, and bring with them their aura of culture, distant in both place and time.

There is a long and time-honored tradition of mixing West and East. A single object can bring a room from eclectic traditional to modern classic universal.

ACCESSORIES

Artists whose names may not be familiar to you . . . yet . . . but whose subjects we all recognize as universal.

Jia Moderne brings you the finest works of contemporary Asian art with pieces by such celebrated artists as Nguyen Bach Dan, Pham Huy Thong, Le Quy Tong, Nguyen Thanh Binh, Le Quan, and Hoang Duc Dung.

Exclusively hand-selected, these works arrive on our shores, some available for the very first time in New England.

FINE ART

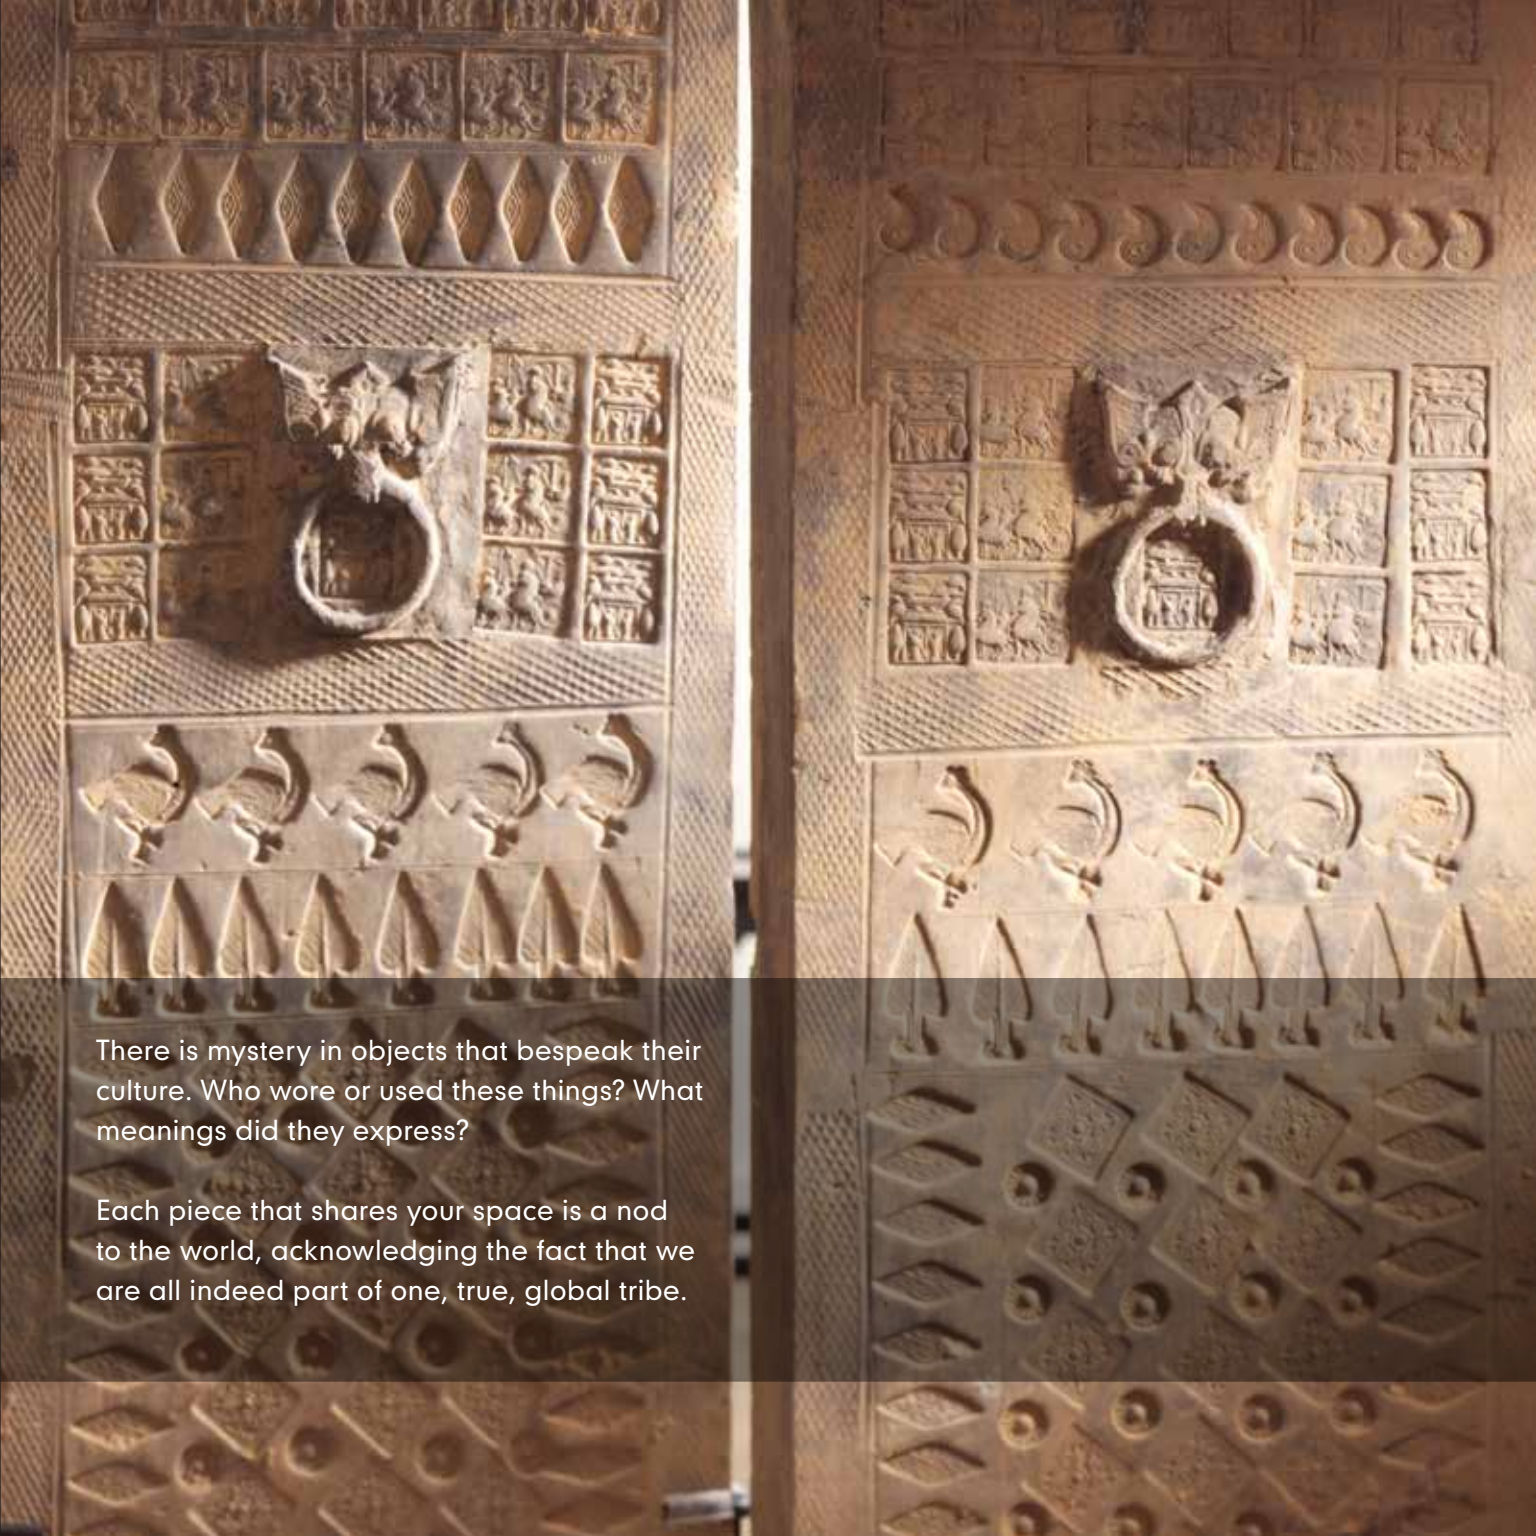

A 12th century Khmer sculpture sits among exquisitely crafted ceramic tableware . . . and you can find it all at Jia Moderne—objects you will treasure. Pieces with the patination of time and an unparalleled presence.

TRIBAL ELEMENTS

There is mystery in objects that bespeak their culture. Who wore or used these things? What meanings did they express?

Each piece that shares your space is a nod to the world, acknowledging the fact that we are all indeed part of one, true, global tribe.

Beauty that's a perfect fit.

Traditional materials and techniques, but built to fit YOUR needs. Custom pieces can be created to complement residential or corporate settings. Call us and tell us what you seek.

Choose a custom size KAYU table, created from a single exquisite slab of select mahogany from Indonesia, each hand-cut and finished—with the power and presence to define an entire room.

Bespoke with timeless design and delivering the highest level of craftsmanship, Jia Moderne is pleased to offer custom pieces from reclaimed Northern Chinese Elm. Sourced from timber of estates gone by, these graceful reinterpretations of traditional pieces use ancient joinery techniques to create custom furnishings to fit your space. Finished in clear varnish, traditional Asian lacquers, or contemporary colors for that “pop,” these sustainable, handmade, handrubbed pieces will stand the test of time.
